What is a Hospice Chaplain?

A hospice chaplain provides spiritual and emotional support to patients and their loved ones throughout the end-of-life journey. They help families find comfort, peace, and hope while honoring each person's unique beliefs and spiritual needs.

- Emotional and spiritual support for patients and families
- Prayer, Scripture reading, Bible study, and Communion
- Assistance with baptisms, funerals, and other religious services
- Connection and coordination with local clergy and faith communities
- Support for anticipatory grief, bereavement, and loss
- Memorial services and remembrance programs
- Spiritual support during patient and family visits
- Community outreach and educational programs
- Support that respects all faith traditions, beliefs, and personal preferences

What is a Bereavement Social Worker?

A bereavement social worker provides compassionate grief support to families, caregivers, and community members before and after the loss of a loved one. They help individuals navigate grief and connect them with the resources and support they need.

- Personalized grief support based on individual and family needs
- Grief assessments and ongoing follow-up
- Support for families following the death of a loved one
- Bereavement care for up to 13 months after a hospice patient's death
- Individual grief counseling and supportive visits
- Monthly grief support groups
- Grief education and practical coping strategies
- Bereavement resources and referrals to community services
- Memorial and remembrance opportunities
- Grief support available to members of the community, even if their loved one did not receive hospice care
